Teachers did the math and had all time needed for the school year completes 2 weeks before school ended. My child said they did nothing but sit and watch movies or just sit there for 2 whole weeks. A complete waste of time, money and resources. On a side note, hire police officers to manage the traffic in front of the 6th grade center. Cars going the wrong way on the road. Kids crossing in front of cars without looking. Teachers only watching at the drop off...they are not supervising kids once they are out the door. It's a matter of time before a kid gets hit or killed on Pecan in front of the schools.

Train all educators on mental health strategies, Provide more opportunities for student support for mental health	Honestly the sigh and teachers have been wonderful through this ordeal. I can not imagine all the different scenarios this has brought to our school this past year. Our family has had one online learner and one that attended school (HS) one that went to school had covid in January and then 5 weeks later started having seizures. I am so very blessed that the persons who were there w my daughter gave her the needed support to help offer their medical experience and the patients going forward.

Could be memories of a lifetime. - more field trips, like to a farm, plant- to show how things are made. - offer summer help for those who need it. - Love, care, understand and have time for each student who needs it.

Paying qualified teachers is a great start to closing educational gaps. Additionally, less tests and more focus on study habits. As we all experienced via zoom, it's difficult for kids to remain focused on screens. If we are going to continue screen learning in classrooms as well, we should be training them on how to rotate, store, recall, and utilize electronic curriculum at younger class ages and reinforced through high school.

As a virtual teacher in Celina, these students scores (MAP scores/grades), social skills, and overall stamina were GREATLY impacted.

My 3rd grade daughter has sickle cell and my concern for her exposure for an in person only option is very high. Consider a K teacher, a 1-2 teacher, a 3 teacher, a 4 teacher and a 5 teacher for example. Each teacher can zoom medically high risk kids only and all CISD elementary can combine. Criteria for the 2021-22 virtual option is optional with proof of medical condition. If a child has a life threatening medical condition, there is a choice: attend in person or opt out and attend virtual option. I suggest a survey sent to all parents to determine the demand to properly plan the funds as the district may only need to consider dedicated virtual teachers for a specific group. For example, if the demand across all elementary grades to be 13 kinders, 9 first, 17 second, 6 third, 0 fourth, 4 fifth then only four dedicated virtual teachers. 1-kinder, 1-who covers first and second, 1-third and 1-fifth. Something could be creatively done!!!!
